[さあれ、神は死んだ!]

Around the 30th year of
the Showa Era, (1955) the heart of
children's culture was
the candy
store...

Toy guns that could shoot a
hundred rubber
bands. Higonokami
knives and Pachinko games.

Marbles,
tops, Menko
and all sorts of
cheap sweets...

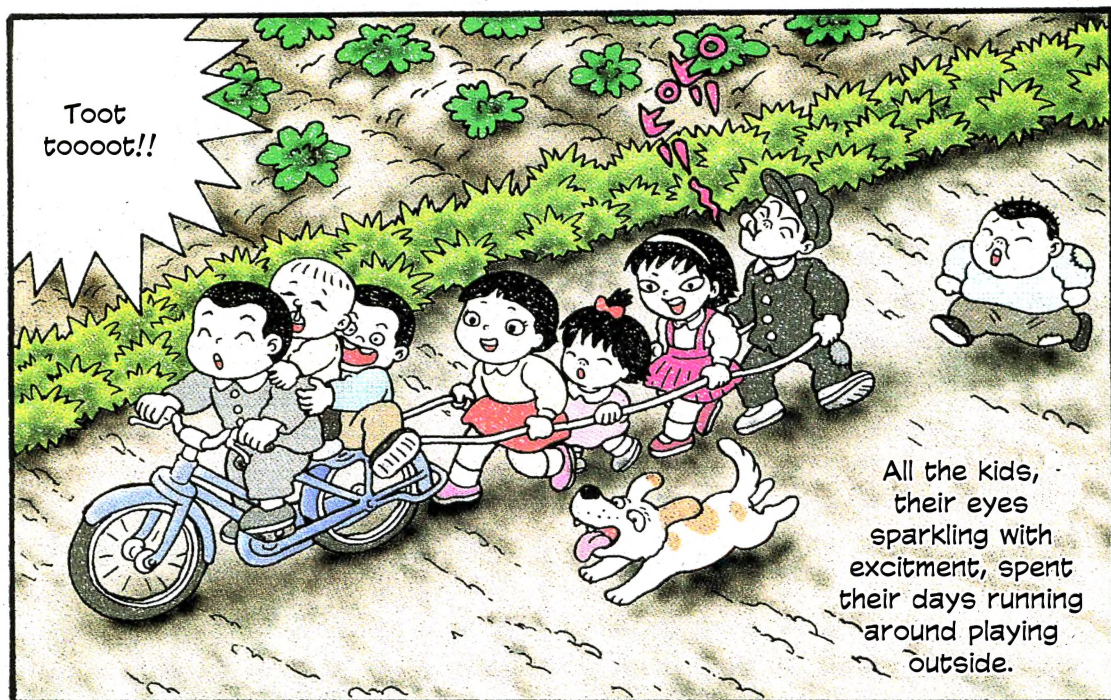

There
everything
a child
could dream
of was waiting to come to life!

Toot
tooooo!!

All the kids,
their eyes
sparkling with excitement, spent
their days running
around playing
outside.

This story
depicts my childhood
memories
of those
times.
The landscape
of my beginnings...

The Landscape of My Beginnings

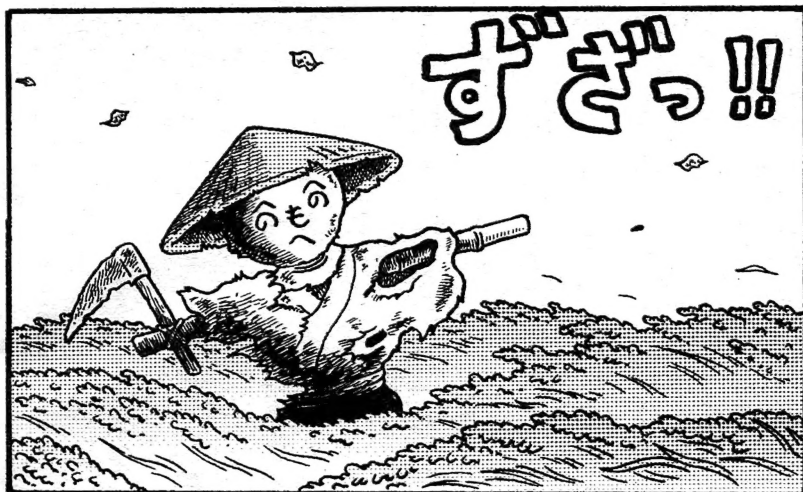

A Boy's Diary

CHAPTER 1

The Day I Saw the Eye of the Typhoon

A typhoon was hitting our town. School
was canceled
that morning.

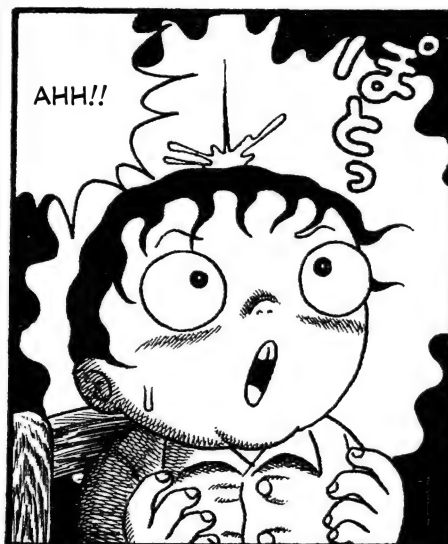

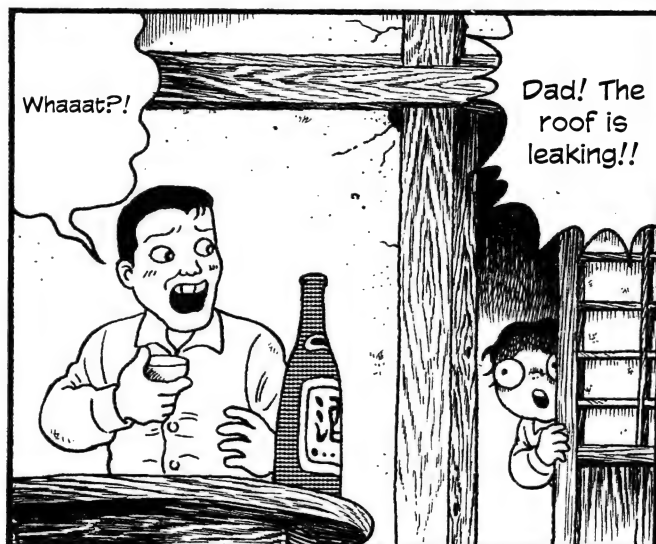

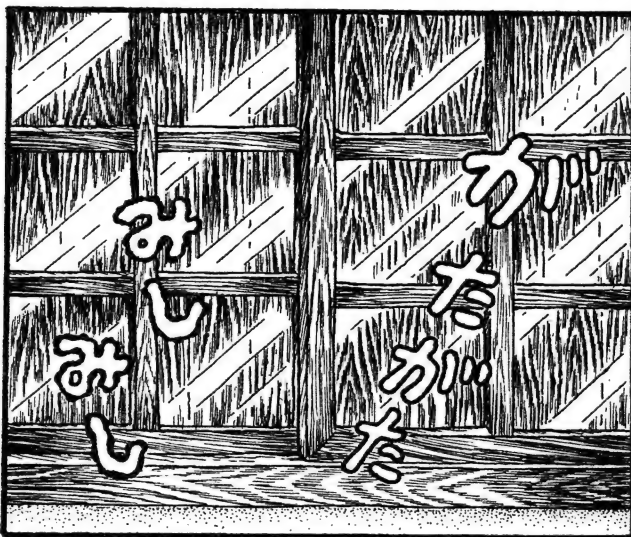

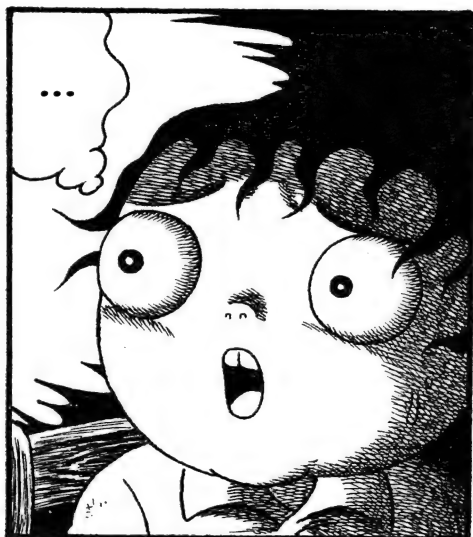

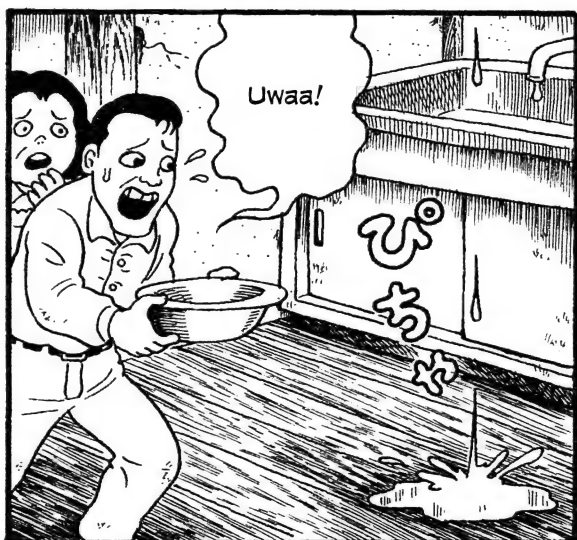

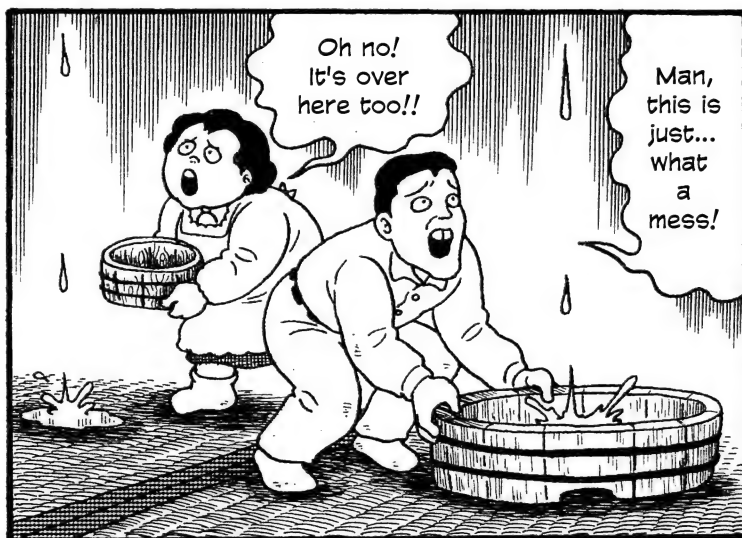

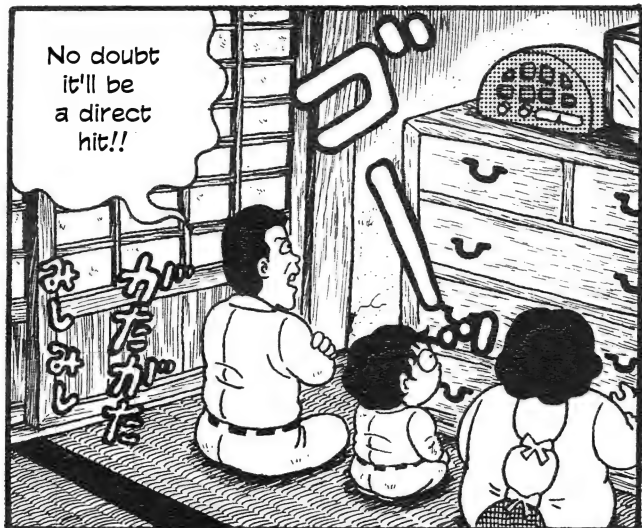

The wind started getting stronger and stronger. I was so scared, I stayed inside waiting for it to pass.

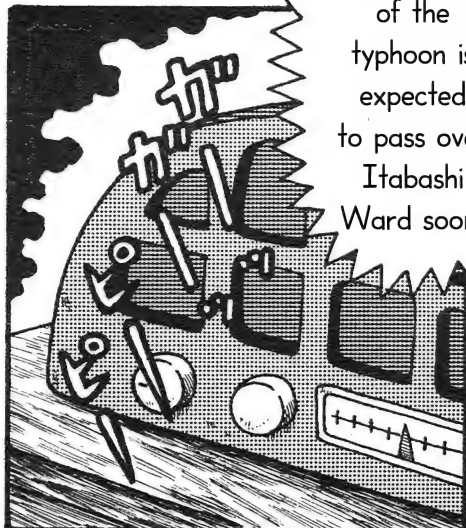

The whole house had leaks and we were running out of buckets, basins and washing bowls. The inside of the house was turning into a flood.

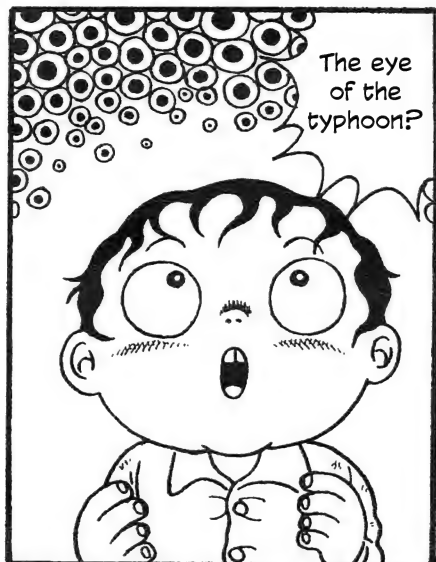

No doubt
it'll be a direct
hit!!

The center of the typhoon is expected
to pass over
Itabashi
Ward soon!

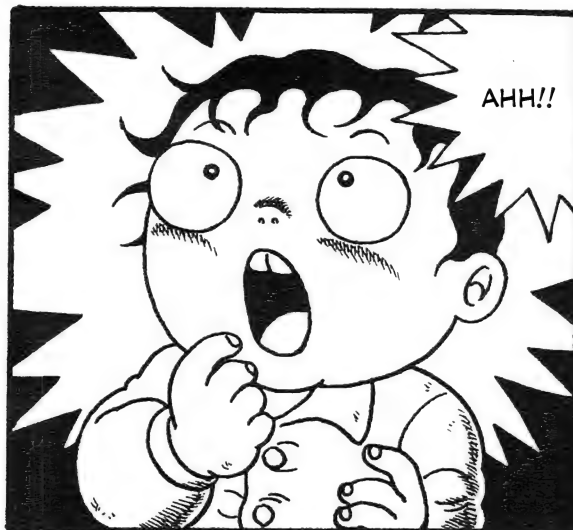

The eye
of the typhoon?

We must be in the eye of the typhoon.

Hmm...
The wind's
stopped.

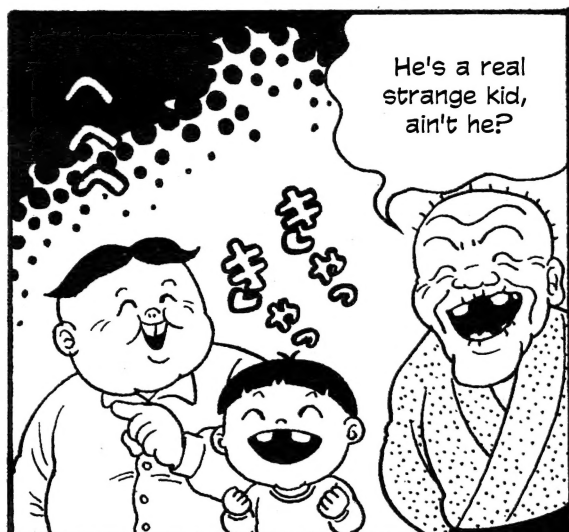

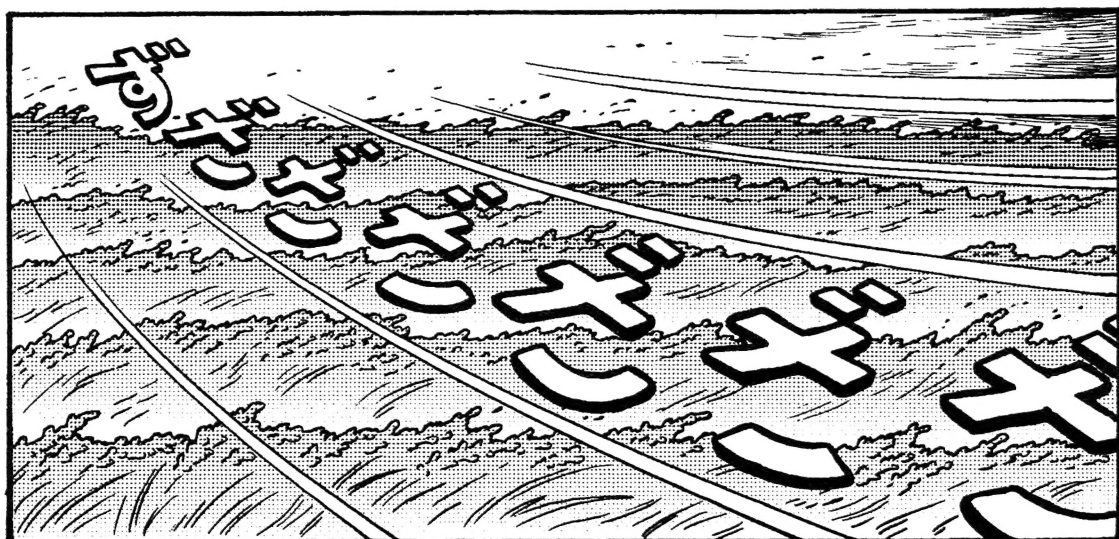

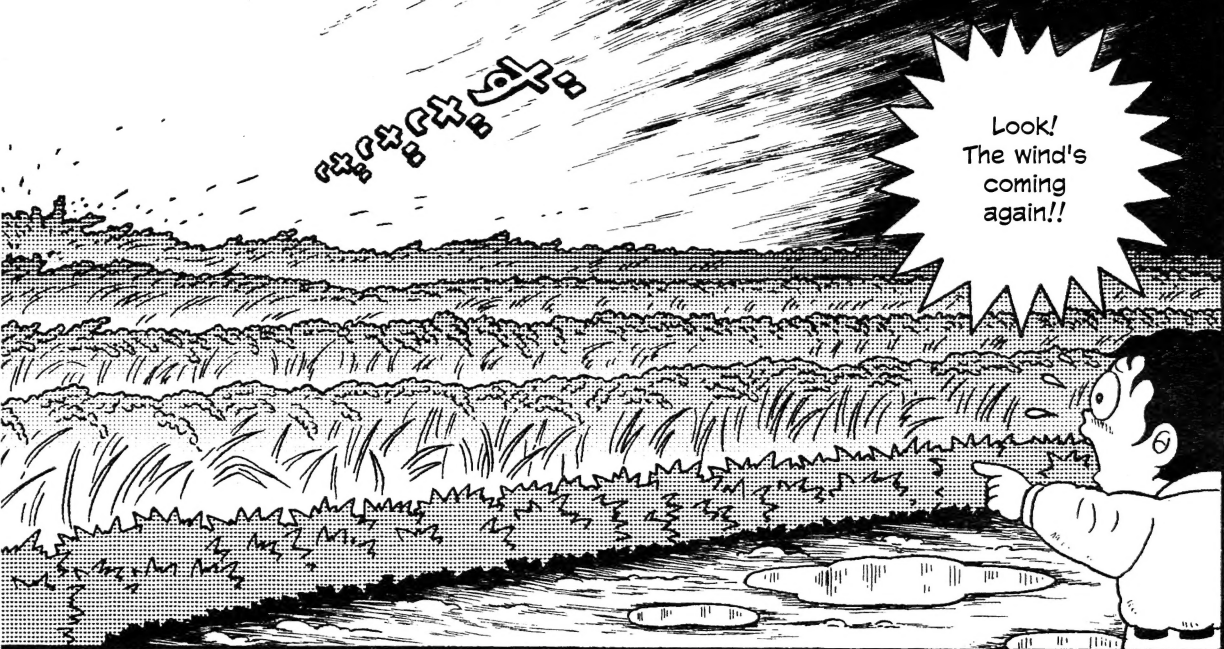

AHH!!

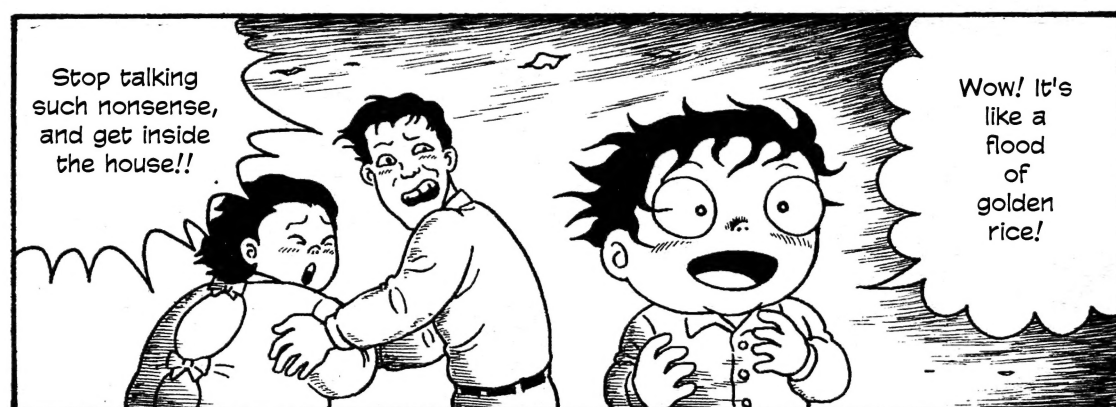

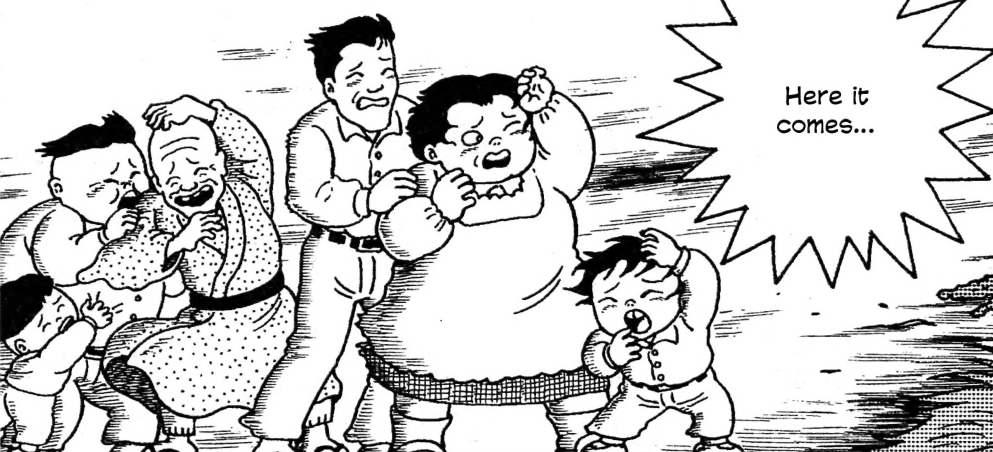

びゅーうーうーうーうーうーうー

My friends and neighbors who were outside all ran into their houses. The wind and rain grew stronger and stronger. I kept thinking about the giant's eye and my heart was pounding.
